FX IMPACT
TENSIONER & SHROUD KIT SELECTION GUIDE

Please inspect your rifle before selecting a kit.

FX Impact rifles can use different barrel-area configurations. The correct tensioner and shroud kit depends on your rifle's actual hardware, barrel length, and caliber. Model name alone is not enough to guarantee compatibility.

STEP 1 | Identify your barrel configuration

| YOUR RIFLE HAS… | SELECT THE MATCHING CONFIGURATION |
|---|---|
| No barrel support or barrel clamp | NO SUPPORT / NO CLAMP |
| A barrel clamp around the barrel | BARREL CLAMP |
| A separate barrel support under/around the barrel | BARREL SUPPORT |

Typical configurations (not a substitute for inspection): Many M3 rifles use a barrel clamp, while M4 rifles commonly use a barrel support. There are variations, so check the hardware on your individual rifle. Do not choose based only on M3 or M4.

STEP 2 | Select your barrel length

Choose the kit that matches your rifle's barrel length: 500 mm, 600 mm, 700 mm, or 800 mm (select from the lengths offered for the configuration you identified). Use the barrel length specified for your rifle. Do not use the overall shroud length or estimate based on appearance.

STEP 3 | Select your caliber

| .17–.30 CALIBER | .35 CALIBER |
|---|---|
| Use the shared .17–.30 caliber kit family. | Requires its own .35 caliber kit. |

BEFORE YOU ADD TO CART

- ☐ I inspected my rifle's barrel area and identified: no support/clamp, barrel clamp, or barrel support.
- ☐ I confirmed my barrel length: 500 / 600 / 700 / 800 mm.
- ☐ I confirmed my caliber: .17–.30 or .35.
- ☐ The product option I selected matches all three items above.

IMPORTANT: Please verify your rifle before ordering. Selecting the wrong configuration may result in an incompatible kit. If you cannot confidently identify your setup, contact Bullet Central before purchasing and provide clear photos of the barrel area and your rifle's caliber and barrel length.
